Every renovation begins with a vision, but success comes from execution.

A photograph of a white, single-story house with a grey shingled roof. The house features a large, multi-paned window with a dark frame. A black downspout runs vertically along the side of the house. A tall, narrow evergreen tree stands to the right of the house. The background is filled with lush green trees under a clear blue sky.

CAPTION

East Victoria Street, South Bend, Indiana. A foreclosure auction that became a complete transformation.

The home started as a bank-owned property. We acquired it through a foreclosure auction, after it had reverted to the bank, and saw an opportunity that others had overlooked. The real work began after closing. Years of deferred maintenance meant the house needed far more than cosmetic updates. It needed a complete rebuild from the inside out.

People came first. Before construction began, we worked with the occupants and the local community to help them transition respectfully.

This project was executed through Indiana Charger Holdings LLC in South Bend, and it succeeded because of local expertise, execution, and relationships. Indiana Charger Holdings led the work with incredible support from Jonah, his family, Tito, and Tito's entire team. Dominion Financial also helped us move quickly so we could preserve the opportunity.

The house received new electrical, plumbing, HVAC, insulation, and drywall, along with a new kitchen, bathroom, flooring, and paint, plus extensive structural and cosmetic improvements. It is now a fully modernized home.

Today, another local family calls it home. That is the goal behind every project we take on: revitalizing neighborhoods and creating housing that people are proud to live in.

Live with us. Work with us.
